I am an undergraduate student at the University of Technology Malaysia, pursuing a degree in Network and Security within the Faculty of Computer Science. My passion lies in Cyber Security, and every day I dedicate myself to honing my programming skills, striving to become a professional in the field. Beyond my academic pursuits, I possess a diverse set of soft skills that enrich my profile. I am an experienced business strategist, a creative writer with a passion for poems and short stories, and have taken on roles as a director, actor, and cameraman for various video competitions. I also actively engage in public speaking and maintain a disciplined lifestyle as a runner. These experiences, combined with my technical expertise, are shaping me into a well-rounded individual, committed to excelling in both the cyber security industry and in life.
